

Treat yourself to a new smile with Chameleon Veneers

How often do you treat yourself?

We're not talking about buying the luxury bubblebath instead of the value range, we mean a real treat – after all you deserve it.

Chameleon Veneers could offer you that smile you've always wanted. Today veneers are highly popular, as they offer a simple solution to improving your smile without removing teeth. They're a great way to improve upon your existing teeth and they can require minimal preparation, so in some cases you won't even require anaesthetic!

Chameleon Veneers are a popular brand of veneers and have been used since the 1980s - making them the cosmetic solution of choice. As they have been used for so long they are one of the most reliable yet attractive cosmetic solutions available.

Powered by:

terec
DENTAL LABORATORIES

McDowell + Service
Dental Laboratory Ltd
www.mcdowell-service.com

Veneers are a form of cosmetic dentistry but they are not a major procedure. They can be made from different materials with the most popular material being porcelain, as it provides a hardwearing surface with a beautiful, natural finish.

See our step-by-step guide to discover how you could have a great new smile in just a few weeks.

Step 1

Book an appointment with your dentist. They'll advise you on the best restoration to help you achieve excellent results.

Step 2

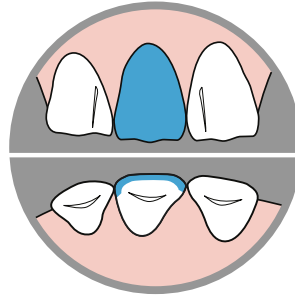

Your dentist will then reshape and prepare your current tooth surface to make room for the veneers.

Step 3

An impression will be taken so your veneers can be made to your exact specification. They will then be sent to a dental laboratory that will make the veneers and send them back to your dentist within the agreed time scales.

Step 4

When your veneers are ready your dentist will ask you to come back to have them fitted and you'll walk out of the dental practice a new you.

Chameleon Veneers:

Blue represents the small amount of enamel that would be removed and replaced with a Chameleon porcelain Veneer.

What are Chameleon Veneers?

They are a thin layer of restorative material which is placed on the surface of your teeth. The most popular material, and the material which Chameleon Veneers are made from, is porcelain as it provides the best natural looking result and the best strength so they can cope with daily wear and tear.

What can Chameleon Veneers do for me?

Chameleon Veneers can improve teeth in a variety of situations, including teeth that are slightly damaged, stained, chipped or crooked.

What kind of preparation is required for Chameleon Veneers?

For Chameleon Veneers you won't need much preparation as it's such a thin layer of porcelain. In fact, in some cases no anaesthetic is required. Your dentist will clean and remove the top layer of enamel so it can be replaced with the porcelain. Of course should you have any questions or concerns please discuss these with your dentist.

I'm interested in getting Chameleon Veneers, what should I do?

Speak to your dentist today as they will be able to answer all or any questions you may have and you can book your appointment to get your Chameleon Veneers made this New Year.

Ask your dentist about Chameleon Veneers today!